

Privacy Policy

Last updated: 14th Feb 2018

PLEASE READ THESE TERMS AND CONDITIONS CAREFULLY BEFORE USING THE ONLINE PLATFORMS

This “Kirtane Pandit Office and Client Management” mobile application for Android henceforth referred to as “Application”, and various related services including any updates and new versions, are operated by Ujet Technologies for Kirtane & Pandit LLP henceforth referred to as “your employer”.

This Privacy Policy explains how Ujet Technologies collects information about you, a person downloading our Applications, or otherwise accessing or using the Services (“User,” or “you”), and how Ujet Technologies stores, uses and discloses collected information. We greatly value user privacy and transparency.

By accessing or using any of our Services, you consent to the data collection, use, disclosure and storage policies and practices described in this Privacy Policy.

Information We Collect Through our Services

We may collect the following types of information through our Services (“Collected Data”): information that is directly provided to us, such as personal information you provide us or your employer when you register for the Services, information that is automatically collected from you, such as information collected from your browser or device, geolocation information and information about your interests.

1. Information You Provide to Us: Collected Data may include personal information like your name, email address, and location provided by your employer.

2. Information That is Automatically Collected: We may use automated means to collect various types of information about you, your computer or other device used to access our Services. This information may include information received from your web browser, operating system, or device, including information about the device (including Unique device identifier (UDID)) and other similar information.

By visiting or using the Services, whether as a registered user or otherwise, you acknowledge and agree that you are giving us consent to track your activities and your use of the Services through the technologies described above, as well as similar technologies developed in the future.

Do Not Track

We do not track Users over time to provide targeted advertising

How We Use the Information

We may use your personally identifiable information to contact you, to provide the Services to you, pass information to you and provide alerts.

We may use your non-personally identifiable information to help us create, develop, operate, deliver, personalize, and improve our Services, content and advertising, for loss prevention and anti-fraud purposes, for internal reporting and marketing purposes, as well as to understand and analyze trends, conduct research and test new features, monitor aggregate usage by Users and perform aggregate analysis.

We may retain your personally identifiable information for as long as necessary to provide the Services to you, provide services to your employers, comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, prevent fraud, and enforce our agreements, or as long as we have a legitimate business need.

Information Sharing

We will store this information with commercially acceptable precautions similar to those described in our Privacy Policy. If you do not consent to the collection, use or sharing of your personally identifiable information as described in this Privacy Policy, please intimate your employer to not provide the information. By providing your personally identifiable information through your employer, you agree to the collection, use and sharing practices described in this Privacy Policy.

Ujet Technologies only shares your personally identifiable information with third parties in the following scenarios:

- When it is reasonably necessary to disclose specific information as required by law, regulations, legal process or governmental request.
- When Ujet Technologies in good faith believes that disclosing your personally identifiable information to third parties is reasonably necessary to investigate, prevent, or take action (in our sole discretion) regarding potentially illegal activities, fraud, security or technical issues, or prevent harm to the rights, property, or safety of Ujet Technologies, its Users, or the public as required or permitted by law.
- We may also disclose your personally identifiable information if we determine that disclosure is reasonably necessary to enforce our Terms of Use or Privacy Policy, including investigation of potential violations of our Terms of Use or Privacy Policy, or protect our operations or Users.
- We may sell or transfer your personally identifiable information to a successor entity in connection with a corporate merger, acquisition, reorganization or sale of assets, consolidation, bankruptcy, or other corporate change.

We may use, transfer, and share aggregated and/or de-identified information about Users, which is not associated with an identifiable User, with third parties without limitations.

Access to Personal Information and Data Deletion

You can ensure that your contact information and preferences are accurate, complete, and up to date by checking the details with your employer. If you would like to delete your account, you can do so through your employer. If you delete your account, you may no longer be able to use the Application, no longer be visible on our Services, though we may still keep some log information in non-personally identifiable form.

Security

Ujet Technologies uses generally accepted industry security standards to protect Users' personal information. However, no Internet transmission is ever fully secure or error free. You should take special care in deciding what information is shared with us.

International Transmission

Due to the distributed nature of our technology, some or all of your data may be stored outside of your state or country. This is done to make sure that your data is optimally accessible from any location, and to optimize system architecture. Our Services are operated in India, in accordance with Indian law. If you are located outside of India, you use our Services at your own risk, and acknowledge that your information may be transferred internationally. By using our Services, you consent to your information being collected, processed and transferred as set forth in this Privacy Policy.

Our Policy Towards Children

Our Services are not directed to individuals under 13 and are currently limited to the employees of Kirtane & Pandit LLP for this Application.

Changes to Our Privacy Policy

We may update our Privacy Policy from time to time. The most current version of the Privacy Policy will govern our use of your information and will always be on our Website. If we make any material changes, we will notify you by posting a notice on our Website about the update to the Privacy Policy, and the updated Privacy Policy will indicate the date of the latest revision. You agree to accept any changes or revisions to this Privacy Policy by continuing to use our Services. We encourage you to periodically review this page to stay aware of any changes to this Privacy Policy.

Questions and Feedback

We are committed to maintaining your privacy and providing our Services in a useful and secure manner. If you have any questions or concerns about our Privacy Policy, or any other matter, please contact us at sales@ujet.in . We welcome your feedback. If you provide feedback to us, it will be treated as nonconfidential and non-proprietary, and you acknowledge and agree that we may use and disclose such feedback for any purpose.
